

For over 50 years SPNI has dedicated itself to protecting Israel's environment. SPNI's work integrates field-based practical action, educational activities and the legislative process. In these ways, SPNI contributes to the protection of nature in Israel for today and for future generations. SPNI's members and supporters provide the respected power base necessary for future environmental victories.

COASTAL LAW
Initiated and promoted legislation to protect Israel's Mediterranean coastline and waters – SPNI continues to be Israel's coastal watchdog today

MULTICULTURAL ORIENTEERING
Provide programs that naturally foster integration of immigrant children within Israeli society through teaching mutual love of the land

URBAN COMMUNITY BRANCHES
Hubs of activism and educational programs in urban centers and disadvantaged communities for promoting environmental consciousness

HIKES & OVERNIGHTS WITH THE NATURE PROFESSIONALS
Field Schools established adjacent to nature reserves in the 60s and 70s offer accommodations, tours and programs promoting respect and love for the land

WILDFLOWERS
The 1960s era campaign that made a difference – "Get out & Enjoy the View but Please Don't Pick the Flowers"

CHILDREN MAKE A DIFFERENCE
20,000 children and youth participate in SPNI's environmental education programs, encouraging activism and volunteerism such as river clean-ups
